

Printing your Junior Hawkwatcher Program

Here is the Junior Hawkwatcher Program for the Allegheny Front Hawk Watch. The web version is easier to look at, but the bifold is designed to be printed double sided. (The next paragraph describes how to print it as a booklet.)

To print it, select and open the bifold version. Open the file with Adobe Acrobat (other programs will work) and select Print All - Print on Both Sides of Paper – Landscape - Actual Size. For most printers that cannot automatically print both sides, you will need to reload the paper manually back into the tray after it prints on one side. My computer tells me when to switch the paper. For my printer, I take the printed pages and put them with the printed side up back into the tray. I hit the OK button when it appears on the computer, and it prints so that the new stack can simply be folded.
